    1. A random drawing will determine the Waiver Wire Priority for each team at the start of the season.
    2. The drawing will begin with highest Waiver Wire Priority position (1) and end with the lowest Waiver Wire Priority position (10).
    3. The number of lottery chances for each team will be determined by the formula: Number of Teams-Draft Order Position+1
    4. Lottery Chances for each team are exclusive of trades. [9]
  - b. Time Players are placed on Waivers: 1 day.
  - c. At the start of the FFL Pre-Season, players will: Follow normal Waiver Wire rules
  - d. Waiver Priority: Continual rolling list. Waiver claims are processed in waiver priority order and each successful claim moves a manager to the end of the waiver priority list.

Starting in 2026 FFL Pre-Season, Waiver Wire claims will be based on a Free Agent Acquisition Budget (FAAB) system.

In a Free Agent Acquisition Budget (FAAB) waivers system, each manager receives a dollar amount to place blind offers on waived players throughout the season. The manager with the highest offer at the end of the waiver period claims that player, and that offer amount is deducted from the team's free agent budget for the season. If multiple managers place an equal offer on a player, Continual rolling list tiebreak will determine the winner of the claim.

- Starting FFL Pre-Season FAAB will be set at $100 per Team.
- Starting Regular Season FAAB will be set at $100 per Team.
- Unspent FAAB at the end of the FFL Pre-Season and Regular Season will not carry over.
- FAAB may be traded for Players or Draft Picks among Teams.[20]
